

Arboricultural Consultant (Lead)

Description

Crestwood Environmental Ltd. is a well-established multi-disciplinary company with international backing and connections, providing environmental planning and associated expertise (including landscape architecture, ecology, archaeology, geo-environmental, arboriculture and environmental consultancy) and is proud to be a Chartered Environmentalist Employer Champion.

We are currently seeking a Lead Arboricultural Consultant to join our friendly professional team of consultants. The role will involve taking the lead in providing a range of arboricultural surveys and producing technical outputs on a wide range of projects for a wide range of clients, with opportunities to work all over the UK (and beyond).

In particular, the provision of tree surveys, arboricultural impact assessments, arboricultural method statements etc. to BS5837:2012 will be required. Others such as tree condition surveys, ancient /veteran tree surveys and asset management surveys are also provided. Other associated additional skills or areas that the candidate wishes to pursue will be welcomed.

This is a great opportunity for someone who wants to springboard their arboricultural career, put into practice their learnings and ideas, create a long-term future and grow alongside and with the support from a Company and a strong team of dedicated and friendly professionals.

Responsibilities

The provision of tree surveys, arboricultural impact assessments, arboricultural method statements etc. to BS5837:2012 will be required. Others such as tree condition surveys, ancient /veteran tree surveys and asset management surveys are also provided. Other associated additional skills or areas that the candidate wishes to pursue will be welcomed.

Qualifications

A successful candidate will be able to demonstrate suitability in relation to several areas, including:

- Qualification to at least RQF Level 5 or higher in Arboriculture or a related discipline or equivalent experience;
- Good knowledge and understanding of tree, fungi, and pathogen identification;
- Lantra Professional Tree Inspection Certificate holder
- Professional level membership (or above) of the Arboricultural Association, or at least 7 years commercial experience working in arboricultural consultancy;
- Ability to advise clients confidently, undertake tree surveys, assessments, method statements and supervision, and produce associated outputs in accordance with BS 5837:2012;
