

Senior or Principal Environmental / Minerals Planning Consultant

Description

Crestwood Environmental Ltd. is a well-established multi-disciplinary company providing environmental planning and associated expertise (including EIA, landscape architecture, ecology, archaeology, geo-environmental and environmental consultancy) to a wide variety of sectors and clients, and is proud to be a Chartered Environmentalist Employer Champion.

We are currently seeking a Senior or Principal Environmental / Minerals Planning Consultant. The role will involve the provision of a variety of environmental consultancy input on multi-disciplinary minerals and other EIA development projects around the UK.

The role will involve co-ordination between different environmental and planning professionals, interested third parties and consultees and clients to deliver practical, effective and successful applications to enable our clients' proposals and sound ongoing operations. Provision of organised project management, good communications, professional environmental planning advice and outputs, and being a key person in delivering multi-disciplinary solutions and outputs (e.g. ES Chapters) will form much of the day-to-day role.

Location: Mostly home-based, plus site visits; flexibility on location, preferably central England.

Supported by a strong team of dedicated and friendly professionals and an ever-increasing client-base, plus impressive work stream, all the ingredients are there for the right person to join our team and continue to build a successful and rewarding career.

Qualifications

Qualification to at least degree (equivalent) level in an environmental or planning subject;

Good knowledge and understanding of the UK's planning system, environmental legislation and associated procedural requirements;

Experience of working on multidisciplinary projects in minerals, waste and other land-development sectors;

Practitioner, Full or Chartered professional membership (e.g. IEMA, RTPI, RICS, SocEnv) and/or at least 5 years commercial experience working in a comparable environment;

Ability to manage multiple projects, converse on a technical level with other professionals and produce/prove associated environmental / planning reports;

Willingness to undertake a wide variety of desk and site-based work;
